Our outrages and the work of Tikkun Olam in our Temple
or Making Passover Truly Meaningful

Abraham Joshua Heschel wrote this prayer for peace: “O Lord, we confess our sins; we are ashamed of the inadequacy of our anguish, of how faint and slight is our mercy. We are a generation that has lost its capacity for outrage. We must continue to remind ourselves that in a free society all are involved in what some are doing. Some are guilty, all are responsible”. Judaism’s ethos is one of communal responsibility, not only of individual rights. A vibrant Judaism should include what to get outraged about. A Judaism that is meaningful to young and old should challenge our comfort levels. So I ask you, what do you get really angry about? What really bothers you?

I can imagine some of your answers: I fight with my kids or spouse or friend, it makes me angry. My boss makes me angry. All the chores that I need to do regularly bother me very much. I struggle with my finances, which really puts me in a bad mood. It bothers me very much when I can’t get what I want quickly.

Contrast those imaginary answers to these: I get outraged when I see injustice happening. I get upset when I see hunger, homelessness and lack of medical care. I get really angry when I see illegal immigrants being abused, lack of good education for all, and violence being so pervasive in our society.

Think for a moment about the differences between these two answers. One possibility is that the second set of answers has a larger scope. It is not only about me. I can get upset about some policies of my country. I can get upset about my sense of worthlessness vis a vis larger topics that influence millions of people. I am really bothered when peace and loving kindness are not values that most people pursue during their daily lives.

Heschel’s famous affirmation that “some are guilty, all are responsible” should give us some pause to review honestly in our heads what upsets us the most, most often.

Our Rabbis of old put it quite sharply when they taught: “You are my witnesses, and I am God (Is 43:12). Rabbi Shimon ben Yochai taught, “Only when you are my witnesses, I am God, but when you are not my witnesses, it is as if I am not God” (Pesichta d’Rav Kahana 12:6). In order to be God’s witnesses, our scope of concern needs to broaden to all of God’s creations. Beyond the self (as important as looking inwards is!). In other words, we need to develop our capacity for outrage, which will lead us to actions of TIKKUN OLAM, mending our fractured world.

Here is where our Temple Emanu-El can play an important role to help us have more influence in addressing what really ought to bother us the most (the larger scope issues). But first the Tikkun Olam committee and we, your clergy, need to learn from you directly. We need to learn what outrages you, what makes you angry? What would you like to change or improve in our society and around the world?

We would also like to know what are you doing on your own already that furthers the value of Tikkun Olam, mending our world. We know that many of you are talented and committed to this value. What we would like to achieve is a larger impact. When we join forces, we can do that.

I invite you to call me or write me an e-mail (Rabbi@Emanuel-mich.org). I will be glad to hear where you are in regards to this question. Our Tikkun Olam committee and I would love to learn about your passion to improve this world. What are your themes and ideas in this regard? What would you like to get passionate about but have not been able to up to now?

Elie Wiesel taught us that the opposite of love is not hate, it is indifference. As a Temple committed to Tikkun Olam, to mending this world, I invite you to consider having this conversation around your Passover table this year. How wonderful it will be to celebrate our people’s freedom as we discuss our current commitments to improving the world that God has given to each one of us. May you enjoy a Seder that is tasty, but also meaningful and challenging!

From my heart to yours,

Rabbi Arturo Kalfus

An invitation to join the Caring Community Cadre at Temple Emanu El

The loss of a loved one, a painfully inevitable part of life, is arguably the time when we need the support and guidance of Jewish tradition the most. Our Temple family is particularly sensitive to the needs of mourners, and that’s where the Caring Community becomes involved.

Who Are We?
We are a group of dedicated members, who both coordinate and provide Shabbat dinners for Temple members who have lost a parent, child, sibling or spouse. We also prepare and deliver soup and bread to Temple members after a debilitating illness or surgery, and to new moms.

What is involved?
We are in need of cooks, who are able to prepare and/or assemble Shabbat dinners. We also need drivers who can pick up and deliver the meal to the designated family. If a Shabbat dinner is declined, a monetary contribution is made to a relevant fund at Temple. All related expenses are reimbursed by the Caring Community.

If you are interested in any way, please contact the Caring Community coordinators, Marilyn Kaczander Cohen at markacz2@gmail.com or Carolyn Silverstein at barryandcarolynsilverstein@gmail.com and Alie Kabbeat.alieeway@comcast.net.

We thank you for your consideration of joining us in carrying out this important mitzvot.

“The primary purpose of prayer is not to make requests. The primary purpose is to praise, to sing, to chant. Because the essence of prayer is a song, and man cannot live without a song.” A. J. Heschel
Hannah Stoller -- April 5
Hannah Lindsey Stoller will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, April 5, 2014. She is the loving daughter of Jennifer and Bradley Stoller and big sister to Nicholas, Zoe, and Landon. She is the Granddaughter of Judi and Ken Stoller and Patricia Righettini. Hannah attends Royal Oak Middle School where she is an honor roll student. Hannah has volunteered at Yad Ezra for her Bat Mitzvah project. This has been very special and meaningful to her. She has been able to take a hands-on approach to helping many needy families in our Jewish community. Hannah’s other passions include dance, musical theater, music, and spending time with her friends.

Ellie Koretz -- April 19
Ellary Claire Koretz (Ellie) will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, April 19, 2014. With Ellie in spirit and in her heart will be her beloved late grandparents Marvin Littman, as well as Shirley and Joseph Koretz. Ellie is a 7th grade honor student at Norup International School, where she is a member of the 7th Grade Orchestra and the Religious Diversity Team. Her love for animals inspired Ellie’s Mitzvah Project -- she donated her free time and savings to help homeless animals in need.

Jake Cooper -- April 25
Jake Ryan Cooper will become a Bar Mitzvah on Friday, April 25, 2014. Celebrating with him are his proud parents, Dana and Jason Cooper, his brother Noah, grandparents Diane and Herb Morrison and Lorry and Jerry Cooper and great-grandfather Myer “Mike” Beresh. United Cerebral Palsy Detroit assists individuals with a variety of disabilities and provides their families with access to much needed services and support. Jake also volunteered at the Friendship Circle’s annual Walk for Friendship event. Jake is looking forward to sharing his Bar Mitzvah with family and friends.

(Spiritual) Housekeeping notes:

Please watch your snail and email boxes for details on the upcoming:

- Free dues raffle
- Annual Membership renewal packet in early May
- Notice of the Annual Meeting and, NEW THIS YEAR, Congregational Brunch preceding the meeting on Sunday, June 1 where we present the budget, elect trustees for 2014-15, and announce the winner of the Free Dues Raffle.

A special shout-out to two of our “next generation” members Brian Gold and Sierra Onickel because a little bird told me they went far above and beyond the call of duty to help Judy Greenwald with her Tapestry of Taste program. We have many people who volunteer so much of their time and energy and expertise to us (and you’ll be hearing more about that at the Annual Meeting) but I was particularly struck by this inter-generational sharing of time and talent on behalf of Temple Emanu-El and our members.

PLANNING FOR 2014-15!

On MAY 12 AT 7:00 P.M., senior staff and representatives from every committee and arm meet to REVIEW/PLAN CALENDAR ITEMS for the fiscal year that begins July 1. Please make sure your group is represented at this important meeting! Draft planning calendars will be sent to chairpersons in late March by Barbara Zeevi. Please fill them in with your desired dates for meetings and events and return them to the office no later than May 1 so we have time to put desired dates into a draft master calendar. This will be distributed at discussed on the May 12 meeting.

“I’m in charge of a fabulous program for Temple Emanu-El. What do I do?”

“I have a great idea for a program at Temple Emanu-El. What do I do?”

Here’s what you do.

1. Go to the website, click on the link on the home page and complete the “Calendar Scheduling Form” (http://emanuel-mich.org/calendar/calendar-scheduling-form/) or call the office and ask for Barbara Zeevi.

2. Barbara will check the Temple calendar. She will then get back to you. If the event can be done, she will ask you further questions based on what you wrote when you completed the form.

3. Please note we need at least 6 weeks advance notice (much longer for major events—refer to the notice of the annual calendar meeting on May 12 for more info). This is so we can be sure events get into the bulletin, which is prepared 4 weeks ahead of publication, and onto the master Temple calendar and do not conflict with other events planned.

SPONSOR AN ONEG, A KIDDUSH OR A WINE & CHEESE PRE-SERVICE ONEG

In honor of a simcha—anniversary, birthday, graduation or other special event. Or, you may wish to honor the memory of a loved one.

The minimum costs of sponsorship are:

- Friday oneg: $150 • Saturday Kiddush: $90 • Wine & Cheese Oneg: $100

We recognize our Oneg sponsors and the occasions for their sponsorship in the service bulletin. It is possible for more than one family to sponsor an oneg. Please contact Barbara in the office for more information and to select a date.

Shalach Manot

On behalf of your Temple Membership Committee and its Shalach Manot sub-committee, we thank the following volunteers who, each in their own way, gave tirelessly and generously to ensure the success of the event. Amazingly, some 250 packages were assembled with loving care, and 170 of them were delivered by our volunteer drivers. We thank all of our volunteers for their time, generosity and commitment.

The success of this Temple Emanu-El tradition may be measured not only because more than $2,250 was raised to support Caring Community efforts during the upcoming year, but also because, during Shalach Manot, we touched the lives of more than half of our Temple families. With sincere appreciation, we thank the following volunteers who made this amazing endeavor possible:

Although the smell of Hamantashen still lingers in the air, matzah is on sale, which tells us that Passover will soon be here. The Early Childhood Community will be very busy preparing for this holiday of freedom. Our pre-k classes will have the opportunity to make matzah and create a special Passover project as they visit the Barbara and Douglas Bloom Matzah Factory and tour Shalom Street at the Jewish Community Center in West Bloomfield. This field trip is an annual event. In our classrooms children will be working on matzah covers, seder plates, saltwater bowls, and creating haggadahs to tell the story of Passover. Older classes will prepare traditional school charoset (no nuts or wine) in preparation for their seder, which will include parents this year.

With seders quickly approaching here are some suggestions to bring more meaning and enjoyment back to the family seder, especially for pre-schoolers:

1. Go to the local dollar store and buy some “visual aids” for the plagues. When you get to that part of the Haggadah, throw out a pile of frogs…plastic cows and animals…snakes and spiders…ping pong balls (hail)...dark sunglasses (darkness)...Be creative and fun. The kids (and adults) will love it.

2. Buy some dollar store “prizes” for kids. When they ask a good question (which is what you are trying to stimulate), they get a prize. Also give prizes for asking the Four Questions, good singers, etc…The kids will keep busy playing with their prizes until they think of another good question and jump back in.

3. Read the Haggadah in the language that you best understand. English is fine! If there are a lot of children, you may find the Haggadah your child made in pre-school to be the best.

From generation to generation we treasure those grandparents, special friends and relatives who enrich our lives. On Friday, April 25th, it will be our pleasure to welcome grandparents from the Caterpillar, Rainbow, Ocean, and Butterfly classes to a “Grand Morning”. We will begin our morning with an “adult only” buffet breakfast, followed by a Shabbat service and concluding with an activity in the classroom. This inter-generational program is a favorite tradition within the Temple ECC.

In looking ahead, mark your calendars for the early childhood social event of the season: THE YOUNG MASTERS ART EXHIBIT, Wednesday evening, May 7th, at the Temple. More information to follow.

Wishing everyone a Healthy and Happy Passover!

Leo Tolstoy: “What is the Jew?...
What kind of unique creature is this whom all the rulers of all the nations of the world have disgraced and crushed and expelled and destroyed; persecuted, burned and drowned, and who, despite their anger and their fury, continues to live and to flourish. What is this Jew whom they have never succeeded in enticing with all the enticements in the world, whose oppressors and persecutors only suggested that he deny (and disown) his religion and cast aside the faithfulness of his ancestors?! The Jew - is the symbol of eternity. ...
He is the one who for so long had guarded the prophetic message and transmitted it to all mankind. A people such as this can never disappear. The Jew is eternal. He is the embodiment of eternity.”

Annual Membership Commitment

It’s time again to start planning for the next fiscal year at Temple. The Budget Committee began meeting in February to make sure we can present a balanced budget proposal to the Board for approval. That means in early May, it will be time for you to recommit to your annual membership commitment for Temple Emanu-El.

Your annual dues are the source and foundation of Temple’s viability. Dues make up almost 60% of temple revenues. And all of us should be very proud that we have a very high collection rate on dues pledges. Clearly our members understand how important it is that pledges be fulfilled so we can plan for our daily operations and know we can rely on membership pledge money being received.

As with all businesses, operating expenses continue to rise. When you make your pledge this year, please do not just say, “charge me what I paid last year”. Please consider how your new dues pledge can help the Temple keep pace with rising costs and enable Temple to meet the needs of our members.

Dues payments can be made by automatic monthly charges to a credit card. We currently accept American Express, Visa and MasterCard.

Let’s remember another important aspect to membership. That is keeping our Temple building in good condition. This is made possible by your payments on the building fund assessment. This aspect of your membership needs the same commitment as that made for dues to sustain the physical space where we gather together.

Lastly the Temple has established a Financial Obligations Committee (the “FOC”) composed of volunteer temple members. For those not able to commit to full Temple dues, a sliding scale or a dues adjustment process is available. If you need to talk about your particular situation, Susan Kirschner is always available. You can also speak to myself or another member of the FOC and request a confidential in-person meeting.

Please return your pledge forms no later than June 10.

Thank you for your annual dues commitments and for honoring those commitments! I look forward to seeing you at Temple.

Richard Gold
Treasurer and Chair of the Financial Obligations Committee

WELCOME
Join our welcoming core of volunteers who greet members and guests with a kind word and warm smile as they enter Temple for Friday evening or Saturday morning services.

It’s easy to do: just go to the google doc spreadsheet at the link below (copy the link and paste it into your browser) and add your name and email address (dates of services are listed on the spreadsheet). After you sign up, you will receive a reminder with instructions (mainly to just smile and greet people when they arrive at Temple).

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Denise Ferman at dbf4507@aol.com or 248-547-4507.

We look forward to seeing smiling greeters at our foyer doors.

The Social Action Committee would like to know what areas of tikun olam are important to our temple’s members.

We will be providing a survey to help guide us. Stay tuned.
